I've gone crazy! This is a current list of institutions attending the American Indian Higher Education Fair this year. There are still booth spaces available. Call 918.596.7398. Sorry for the inconvenience.

American Indian Higher Education Fair
Saturday, Oct. 13 • 10 a.m.-12:00p.m.
Central Library, 2nd floor and the Computer Training Room
400 Civic Center * 4th St. & Denver Ave. * 596-7977

Sponsored by the Tulsa Library Trust, Tulsa City-County Library's American Indian Resource Center, Readers' Library and Research Center.

This open house features representatives from colleges and universities, information from tribal higher-education offices, and library resources on colleges and financial aid. In addition to making contacts, students and their parents will have an opportunity to learn about library resources related to college funding.

"Show Me the Money"
10:30 a.m. – 11:30 a.m. * AIRC area, 2nd floor

This presentation takes a unique angle to the standard financial aid workshop. While it is financial aid information packed, it goes one step further by attempting to dispel the myth that Native Americans receive a free college education. Focus is on student accountability, applying for federal aid and scholarships.

Visit the Computer Training Room, 2nd floor, any time throughout the fair and find out about online resources to help in your search for the right college and the money to pay for that education.
