Library challenge people to set the table

By Jennifer McQuade Owasso Library Manager

During the month of November, the Tulsa City-County Library is inviting families to take the Set the Table Tulsa challenge.

In this month of family gatherings and gratitude, we are encouraging families to prioritize family dinners. Your challenge is to eat together at least four times a week and document what happens.

Research shows that gathering around the table can have a positive impact on families and individuals when the focus is on mealtime and conversation. The Set the Table Tulsa campaign is presented by Global Gardens with support from Whole Foods and Tulsa Kids.

You can become a friend on Facebook of Set the Table Tulsa at www.facebook. com/SetTheTableTulsa.

We would love to hear feedback from you about your family's set the table challenge on our Facebook page, www. facebook.com/owassolibrary.

The library has great resources available to help you with this family chal-
