Grey Wolf Olympics

1.	Wolves spend up to 10 hours a day looking for food, often running. a. I can run in place for minutes.
2.	Male grey wolves are the largest wolves growing up to 32 inches tall and 5 feet long on average. Plus their tale averages another 1.5 feet! a. I am feet tall standing up.
	 b. I am feet tall lying on the ground with my fingers stretched up and my toes pointed.
3.	A hungry gray wolf may eat 20 pounds of meat at one sitting. That is an average of 9 pepperoni pizza slices.
	a. I can eat slices of pizza
4.	Wolves have large ears that allow them to hear pack members howling from as far away as 10 miles (16km).
	 a. I can hear a watch ticking from inches away (snapping is a good alternative to a watch).
5.	Wolves often travel at five miles (8 kilometers) an hour, but can reach speeds of 40 miles (64 kilometers) an hour.
	a. I can sprint 10 feet in seconds.
6.	Wolf packs usually hunt within a territory, which can range from 50 square miles
	(129 square kilometers) to over 1,000 square miles (2,590 square kilometers).
	a. My kitchen is feet from the front room.
	b. My favorite restaurant is miles from home.
7.	Wolf tracks are about five inches long by four inches wide, much larger than Coyote or domestic dog tracks.
	a. My hand is inches long.
	b. My hand is inches wide with my fingers splayed.
Bonus	Facts!
•	Gray wolves are the largest living wild canine species.
•	Wolves howl to solidify pack bonds and warn other wolf packs to stay away—but despite popular belief, wolves don't howl at the moon.
•	Baby wolves weigh about 1 pound at birth.

Sources

Books

Amazing Animals Wolves by Riggs, Kate Wolves by Simon, Charnan

Websites

https://www.nwf.org/Educational-Resources/Wildlife-Guide/Mammals/Gray-Wolf https://www.paws.org/resources/wolves/