The Elephant of Belfast
By S. Kirk Walsh
Chronicles a seven-month period of time when the Germans unexpectedly bombed Belfast, Northern Ireland. Through the lens of the Bellevue Zoo and one of its zookeepers, 20-year-old Hettie Quin, the novel animates how the war irrevocably impacted – and shaped the lives of Belfast's citizens.

The Love Story of Missy Carmichael
By Beth Morrey
The world has changed around 79-year-old librarian Millicent Carmichael, aka Missy. The last thing Missy expects is two perfect strangers and one spirited dog named Bob to break through her prickly exterior and show Missy just how much love she still has to give.

Sharks in the Time of Saviors
By Kawai Strong Washburn
A groundbreaking debut novel that folds the legends of Hawaiian gods into an engrossing family saga; a story of exile and the pursuit of salvation.

Brood
By Jackie Polzin
Our nameless narrator stubbornly tries to keep her small brood of chickens alive over the course of one savage winter in Minnesota. Woefully unprepared for the task, she battles relentless predators, severe weather and unforeseen bad luck – all while grieving a recent miscarriage, and coming to terms with her infertility and the accompanying uncertainty.

Devoted
By Dean Koontz
Woody Bookman hasn't spoken a word in his 11 years of life. Not when his father died in a freak accident. Not when his mother, Megan, tells him she loves him. For Megan, keeping her boy safe and happy is what matters. But Woody believes a monstrous evil was behind his father's death and now threatens him and his mother.

Beyond Words
By Carl Safina
Follow researcher Carl Safina as he treks with a herd of elephants across the Kenyan landscape, then travel with him to the Pacific Northwest to track and monitor whales in their ocean home. Along the way, find out more about the interior lives of these giants of land and sea – how they play, how they fight, and how they communicate with one another.

Grace and Glory
By Jennifer L. Armentrout
Trinity Marrow has lost the battle and her beloved Protector. Even with demons and Wardens on her side, Trin may not win the war against the Harbinger. Danger, betrayal and enticing forbidden love clash in book three of No. 1 New York Times bestselling author Jennifer L. Armentrout’s Harbinger trilogy!

Giraffe Extinction
By Tanya Anderson
The survival of giraffes in the wild is threatened. Between 1985 and 2015, the overall population of giraffes in the wild has plummeted by 40 percent. Anderson shows how climate change, illegal hunting, wars, habitat loss and habitat fragmentation are the main threats to their survival, and suggests ways readers can alert their community to the dangers facing Earth’s tallest creature.

Sister of the Bollywood Bride
By Nandini Bajpai
Seventeen-year-old Mini plans a magnificent Indian wedding – from their deceased mother’s jewelry to a white wedding horse – for her older sister Vinnie, a medical resident, but a hurricane threatens to destroy it all.

Outrageous Animal Adaptations
By Michael Rosen
A fish that walks on land, a frog that makes its own sunscreen, an insect that can become invisible... These are just a few examples of how Earth’s creatures have evolved some outrageous features and tricks to ensure survival.

discovered by outsiders, it’s up to Steph and her friends, both online and IRL, to save her. E-book, e-audio and physical copies are available for request at www.tulsalibrary.org. Register online at www.tulsalibrary.org/events to receive the Zoom link. For ages 12-18.

CURIOUS WORLD

I'M AN ANIMAL! YOU'RE AN ANIMAL! WE'RE ALL ANIMALS!

6 Basic Animal Groups

The Animal Kingdom includes many different living organisms, including YOU! Animals are either INVERTEBRATES, which means they don't have backbones, or VERTEBRATES, which means they do. Take a look at the 6 basic animal groups and take note: WHERE ARE HUMANS?

SWIM. LEAP. CRAWL. FLY. RUN!

The Many Ways Animals Move

Depending on how their bodies are made, animals move in different ways. Let's look at a wide range of animals, their unique bodies and the different ways they move!

Marmoset

These "mini-monkeys" are about 8 inches long – not including their tails! – and weigh less than a soccer ball. Like other monkeys, they scamper from tree to tree using their legs and front paws. They also have sharp claws which help them grab onto branches! Their long striped tails cannot grab onto tree limbs, but they do act as balancing weights as marmosets leap and scurry in the rainforests of Brazil.

Can you move like a marmoset? Leap from couch to carpet to chair (with your parents' permission!) and see if your fingernails can act like claws to grab onto pillows.

Flamingo

You can spot beautiful flamingos from far away because of their bright pink color, but if you look more closely, you'll see their skinny legs, long and flexible necks, and large curved beak. These necks and beaks allow flamingos to scoop up water easily to find something to eat – usually small insects swimming in the water!

Can you move like a flamingo? Fill a bowl of water with carrot sticks and use your arm like a beak to scoop these delicious treats into your mouth!

Green iguana

This fascinating reptile, found everywhere from Mexico to Caribbean islands, has a smooth body that makes it really fast as it runs as well as strong back legs that help it scamper up tree trunks faster than you can say "iguana"!

Can you move like a green iguana? How fast can you run on all fours from one end of the room to another?

Tortoise

Tortoises...move...very...slowly... They also sleep up to 16 hours a day! They use long front claws to pull themselves along the ground. Because their slow movements make them easier targets for predators, tortoises also have thick shells that they tuck their bodies into for protection.

Can you move like a tortoise? Set a timer for one minute and see who can crawl the SLOWEST.

Octopus

These sea creatures have eight flexible arms that help them crawl along the ocean floor. They also swim by "jet propulsion" – they collect water in a tube in their bodies and then squeeze into explosive blasts that shoot them through the water!

Can you move like an octopus? The next time you take a bath, use your arms to propel you from the front of the bathtub to the back!

Tiger

Tigers are built for hunting and killing: sharp claws, enormous teeth and strong back legs made of mostly muscle to leap and pounce! Their soft paws help them slink and slither so gracefully and quietly that their prey may never hear them.

Can you move like a tiger? Put an apple in the middle of the floor and creep up quietly on it, springing and leaping at the last minute to gain your fruit prize!

MEET THOMAS SHAHAN, BUG PHOTOGRAPHER!

Thomas Shahan is a Tulsa artist and photographer who is famous for his intricate, up-close pictures of insects from around the world. Not too long ago, he was a Tulsa kid just like you! You can see more of his bug photography at www.thomasshahan.com.

Names of bugs: male jumping spider or Habronattus americanus (the one with all of the eyes); red-bordered stinkbug or Edessa rufomarginata (the blue one); leaf-mimicking katydid or Mimetica.

In this Q&A interview, Thomas tells us more about how he got involved in this interesting line of work, his favorite bug and his experience with the Tulsa City-County Library!

Learn more about why BUGS ARE BEAUTIFUL at www.tulsalibrary.org/kids-read-curious-world.

Question: Why bugs? You are also an artist who does non-bug drawings and paintings. But what is it about taking photographs of insects up close that inspires you as an artist?

Answer: Because arthropods are an unfortunately misunderstood group of animals - and even worse, they're often feared. They need some good PR - spiders are the good guys ecologically speaking! And they're an endless source of inspiration for an artist - there's just so much diversity and beauty out there. I could spend my whole life chasing bugs just in Oklahoma and never see them all!

Question: What would you tell a kid who wants to learn more about insects - or photography?

Answer: Just go outside and go slow - watch the ground, flowers, trees - there are beautiful bugs everywhere! You don't necessarily need to go anywhere either - I find a lot of the subjects I photograph in my own backyard here in Tulsa! And use whatever camera you have - cellphones take great pictures now and there are lots of cheap clip-on lenses to get in closer. (Also, get an iNaturalist account at www.inaturalist.org so you can upload your observations and help others get an idea of what bugs are in our area!)

Question: You were once a kid who used the Tulsa City-County Library. What is your best memory about the library?

Answer: At some point in high-school, I remember wanting to look through Charles Griswold's "A Revision of the Jumping Spider Genus Habronattus" and was able to get it on loan through the library. Even though I didn't understand all the scientific lingo at the time, I loved looking through the illustrations and it got me excited about how much jumping spider diversity the US has.

Question: What's your favorite bug or bug photograph?

Answer: Not a "bug" I guess, but jumping spiders are definitely my favorite. Aside from being supercute, they're completely harmless and beneficial animals. They're the largest (in terms of species) family of spider, found all over the world, and often have fancy markings and striking colors. Given how attractive and personable they are, I've found even arachnophobic-leaning folks admitting they're cute. They're a great "gateway" spider to help people appreciate spiders.

THE FOX & THE GRAPES

ANIMAL SCRAMBLE

A Classic Fable by Aesop

Have you heard the expression “that’s just sour grapes” before? It’s normally used when someone wants something, realizes they can’t get it, and then walks away as if they didn’t want it after all. “Sonny didn’t make it on the basketball team, but he says he doesn’t want to now because the basketball uniforms are ugly anyway. Sounds like sour grapes to me!”

Read this classic Aesop’s Fable which is the origin of the “sour grapes” expression. You can read more of Aesop’s Fables in books at the library or online at the Library of Congress: <http://www.read.gov/aesop/001.html>.

A Fox one day spied a beautiful bunch of ripe grapes hanging from a vine trained along the branches of a tree. The grapes seemed ready to burst with juice, and the Fox’s mouth watered as he gazed longingly at them.

The bunch hung from a high branch, and the Fox had to jump for it. The first time he jumped he missed it by a long way. So he walked off a short distance and took a running leap at it, only to fall short once more. Again and again he tried, but in vain.

Now he sat down and looked at the grapes in disgust.

“What a fool I am,” he said. “Here I am wearing myself out to get a bunch of sour grapes that are not worth gaping for.”

And off he walked very, very scornfully.

Moral of the story: There are many who pretend to despise and belittle that is which beyond their reach.

Can you unscramble these groups of words into sentences that make sense? Read “Swim, Leap, Crawl, Fly, Run!” first to give you the background information you need to do this. HINT: The first word of the sentence is capitalized and in bold and underlined.

1. long have Flamingos and necks flexible

Animals Up Close by DK Publishing

MAKE A CURIOUS CREATURES BOOK!

What are your favorite animals? What animals would you like to learn more about? This summer, create a book of “Curious Creatures” like this young writer and artist! After reading several books about animals (which she found at the library!), she decided to draw pictures and write sentences about peacocks, hamsters, cats, flamingos, sloths and parrots.

Here are some fun and curious creatures you could write about and draw! Camel – Raccoon – Jellyfish – Toucan – Sloth – Scorpion – Praying mantis – Ostrich – Zebra – Kangaroo – Snow leopard - Hippo

Previous and upcoming topics include:

123 Andrés Presents: Un Elefante se Balanceaba (Spanish Presentation) June 1-30

Andrés Salguero (aka 123 Andrés) brings joyful sounds, passion for bilingualism and a high-energy love of music that gets kids singing and dancing. This program is in Spanish and builds on the song “Un elefante se balanceaba,” a traditional counting song in Spanish with many elephants bouncing and balancing on a spiderweb. We will explore other songs about counting numbers and share different types of balancing, such as symmetry in art and nature, balancing weights on a scale and in engineering (early STEM), and breathing to find balance in our emotions. Watch this performance on TCCL’s YouTube channel, www.youtube.com/TulsaLibrary. Ideal for ages 3-7.

123 Andrés Presents: Around the Americas Series (Bilingual Presentation) June 1-30

Andrés Salguero (aka 123 Andrés) brings joyful sounds, passion for bilingualism and a high-energy love of music that gets kids singing and dancing. “Around the Americas” features four 15-minute episodes in Spanish and English. A native of Bogotá, Colombia, Andrés won the 2016 Latin Grammy Award for Best Children’s Album. Billboard Magazine called him “a rock star for little language learners.” Watch on TCCL’s YouTube channel, www.youtube.com/TulsaLibrary. Ideal for ages 3-7.

123 Andrés Presents: Una Semilla/A Seed (Bilingual Presentation) June 1-30

Did you know seeds can grow into plants? Seeds can be used to create percussion instruments, and can be used as food for people and animals. This program will inspire kids to explore and observe, doodle, sing and move – in Spanish and English! Andrés Salguero (aka 123 Andrés) brings joyful sounds, passion for bilingualism and a high-energy love of music that gets kids singing and dancing. A native of Bogotá, Colombia, Andrés won the 2016 Latin Grammy Award for Best Children’s Album. Billboard Magazine called him “a rock star for little language learners.” Watch this performance on TCCL’s YouTube channel, www.youtube.com/TulsaLibrary. Ideal for ages 3-7.

123 Andrés Presents: Round and Round/Dando Vueltas con 123 Andrés (Bilingual Presentation) June 1-30

Andrés Salguero (aka 123 Andrés) brings joyful sounds, passion for bilingualism and a high-energy love of music that gets kids singing and dancing. During this family show we’ll explore shapes ... especially circles! Yo veo un círculo, tú ves un círculo ... circles are everywhere! Andrés and Christina bring songs and activities to move, sing and dance in Spanish and English. Watch their performance on TCCL’s YouTube channel, www.youtube.com/TulsaLibrary. Ideal for ages 3-7.

123 Andrés Presents: ¡Actívate! (Spanish Presentation) June 1-30

Actívate means “get active” in Spanish, and that’s what this program is all about! It brings together outdoor challenges, do-it-yourself obstacle courses and songs with silly dance routines to get moving. Andrés Salguero (aka 123 Andrés) brings joyful sounds, passion for bilingualism and a high-energy love of music that gets kids singing and dancing. Program is in Spanish. Watch on TCCL’s YouTube channel, www.youtube.com/TulsaLibrary. Ideal for ages 7-10.

TIPS FOR PARENTS!

Reading for pleasure offers children a chance to experience new adventures and spark their imagination. We encourage parents to:

- Allow your child to check out books based on his or her interest. When children choose what to read, the desire to read is stronger.
- Encourage your child to read to you – and read to your child! Even school-aged children enjoy the care and attention of adults during read-alouds.
- Provide your child with a comfortable, quiet place to read.
- Virtually attend fun events and programs for children on the library's Facebook pages and YouTube channel, www.youtube.com/tulsalibrary.
- Find more fun activities to do with your child in this activity guide or online at <https://tulsalibrary.beanstack.org>.

TIPS FOR PARENTS!

FOR LITTLES

- Babies and young children are not yet able to read on their own. However, research shows that TALKING, SINGING, READING, WRITING and PLAYING every day will help them get ready for reading.
- Virtually attend Build A Reader storytimes on the library's Facebook pages and YouTube channel, www.youtube.com/tulsalibrary, for a fun time for your children but also to learn more about what you can do at home to support your child's literacy growth.
- Find more fun activities to do with your little one in this activity guide or online at <https://tulsalibrary.beanstack.org>.

123 Andrés Presents: Un Elefante se Balanceaba (Spanish Presentation)
July 1-30

Andrés Salguero (aka 123 Andrés) brings joyful sounds, passion for bilingualism and a high-energy love of music that gets kids singing and dancing. This program is in Spanish and builds on the song "Un elefante se balanceaba," a traditional counting song in Spanish with many elephants bouncing and balancing on a spiderweb. We will explore other songs about counting numbers and share different types of balancing, such as symmetry in art and nature, balancing weights on a scale and in engineering (early STEM), and breathing to find balance in our emotions. Watch this performance on TCCL's YouTube channel, www.youtube.com/TulsaLibrary. Ideal for ages 3-7.

123 Andrés Presents: Around the Americas Series (Bilingual Presentation)
July 1-30

Andrés Salguero (aka 123 Andrés) brings joyful sounds, passion for bilingualism and a high-energy love of music that gets kids singing and dancing. "Around the Americas" features four 15-minute episodes in Spanish and English. A native of Bogotá, Colombia, Andrés won the 2016 Latin Grammy Award for Best Children's Album. Billboard Magazine called him "a rock star for little language learners." Watch on TCCL's YouTube channel, www.youtube.com/TulsaLibrary. Ideal for ages 3-7.

LIBRARY BINGO for Littles

Babies and young children can't read, but doing these 5 activities - TALK, SING, READ, WRITE and PLAY - will get their brains ready for reading success later on!

TALK	SING	READ	WRITE	PLAY
Go on a walk and talk about all the sounds you hear.	Sing the alphabet together and clap your hands to the beat.	Pick a letter and look for that letter around the room.	Fill a cookie sheet with salt or sand and practice writing your initials.	Crumple up some paper balls and play a toss game into a basket.
Tell your child about a childhood pet or one you wanted to have.	Put beans or rice inside an oatmeal container and tape shut. Shake your new shaker to the beat of a favorite song!	Reread a favorite book. Leave out some words to see if your child can say them.	Make a grocery list together.	Have an imaginary birthday party for a stuffed animal.
Let your child use a flashlight in the dark and talk about what you see.	Play music and move to the beat. Occasionally stop the music and freeze.	Read a book and talk about the parts of the book: cover, title page, back, etc.	Draw a picture and give it to someone you love.	Pretend to be a dinosaur and stomp around the room.
Identify objects in your kitchen and talk about what each one does.	Sing a favorite song from your own childhood.	Read a book that has lots of pictures of babies.	Crumple up newspaper or pieces of paper - that helps strengthen little hands.	Stack books or boxes as high as you can.
Talk about the weather.	Is there a catchy commercial tune you know? Sing it loud!	Read a picture book about an elephant, monkey or other animal.	Play "Itsy Bitsy Spider" and crawl up the fountain spot with your fingers.	Put on grown-up shoes and see if you can walk around.

If you completed one of these activities, you are eligible to receive a FREE Build A Reader booklet with even more activity ideas. Ask for one at your favorite library branch.

"Who Am I?"

Play a guessing game! Tell your child you are secretly choosing one of the pictures below and then give hints about it. For example, "I am a great big animal with a very long neck and spots. What am I?"

For older children, turn the game around and invite them to secretly choose an animal and give you hints! Talking is a key activity to build your young child's literacy.

Cat

Dog

Elephant

Giraffe

Turtle

Penguin

Rabbit

Monkey

Bear

Fox

Bugging Out!

Helping young children recognize patterns of lines and dots is an important first step to understanding written text.

In this activity, ask your child to draw patterns of lines and dots on the insects. Make sure they go from left to right and top to bottom, as these are the directions our eyes take in the English language when reading text.

Draw horizontal lines on this bug!

Draw vertical lines on this bug!

Draw dots on this bug!

123 Andrés Presents: Una Semilla / A Seed (Bilingual Presentation)

July 1-30

Did you know seeds can grow into plants? Seeds can be used to create percussion instruments, and can be used as food for people and animals. This program will inspire kids to explore and observe, doodle, sing and move – in Spanish and English! Andrés Salguero (aka 123 Andrés) brings joyful sounds, passion for bilingualism and a high-energy love of music that gets kids singing and dancing. A native of Bogotá, Colombia, Andrés won the 2016 Latin Grammy Award for Best Children's Album. Billboard Magazine called him "a rock star for little language learners." Watch this performance on TCCL's YouTube channel, www.youtube.com/TulsaLibrary. Ideal for ages 3-7.

123 Andrés Presents: Round and Round/Dando Vueltas con 123 Andrés July 1-30 (Bilingual Presentation)

Andrés Salguero (aka 123 Andrés) brings joyful sounds, passion for bilingualism and a high-energy love of music that gets kids singing and dancing. During this family show we'll explore shapes ... especially circles! Yo veo un círculo, tú ves un círculo ... circles are everywhere! Andrés and Christina bring songs and activities to move, sing and dance in Spanish and English. Watch their performance on TCCL's YouTube channel, www.youtube.com/TulsaLibrary. Ideal for ages 3-7.

123 Andrés Presents: ¡Actívate! (Spanish Presentation) July 1-30

Actívate means "get active" in Spanish, and that's what this program is all about! It brings together outdoor challenges, do-it-yourself obstacle courses and songs with silly dance routines to get moving. Andrés Salguero (aka 123 Andrés) brings joyful sounds, passion for bilingualism and a high-energy love of music that gets kids singing and dancing. Program is in Spanish. Watch on TCCL's YouTube channel, www.youtube.com/TulsaLibrary. Ideal for ages 7-10.
