The world’s shark population is in trouble for a sad, simple reason: shark fin soup. As a result, local shark populations have been decimated by the illegal practice of shark finning, and many species of sharks are in danger of extinction. But there is hope – the Marine Conservation Institute (MCI) has joined forces with the Florida Keys National Marine Sanctuary (FKNMS) to create a network of shark conservation projects. In this exciting novel, MCI’s Wes Rose enlists the help of three kids: Luke, a brilliant young marine biologist; Martin, a talented young marine researcher; and Sabina, a skilled young marine conservationist. Together, they will work to protect the health of the ocean!

The Girl Who Fell Beneath the Sea
By Aria Oh
In this retelling of the Korean legend “The Tale of Shim Cheong,” 16-year-old Mina is swept away to the Spirit Realm, where, assisted by a motley crew of demons, gods and lesser spirits, she sets out to awaken the sleeping Sea God and save her homeland and family from deadly storms.

The Night Marchers & Other Oceanian Stories
By Axie Oh
An anthology of folklore from the Pacific Islands reimagined with a modern twist.

The Finest Hours
By Mike Souzas
On the night of Feb. 18, 1952, during one of the worst winter storms New England has ever seen, two oil tankers just off the shore of Cape Cod were torn in half by the force of the storm. This is a fast-paced, uplifting story that tells young readers in the middle of the action.

Children explore music through movement and instruments

Arts: Bounce’n Beethovens
Midtown School of Performing Arts

Kids music! Kids and grown-ups alike will gobble up the fun with this energetic concert for the whole family. Join the Luckett Family for songs, stories and games that will have your little one laughing and moving along. The Lucketts are a dynamic mother-daughter duet and are winners of Parents’ Choice Awards. They will premiere their new album titled “A New Day.”

Dance in Bubbles

Dust in Bubbles provides opportunities for social, emotional, physical and language development while creating a space for community connections.

Laura Doherty Duo: Sing, Sing a Song!

Laura Doherty gets kids engaged from the first strum of her acoustic guitar as she performs songs from her album “My Heart.” Laura is the 2019 Kids Music Teacher of the Year and a member of “The Doulas” — a group of world-renowned family music educators.

Music With Steve Weeks

Steve Weeks’ concerts are filled with both a boisterous sense of humor and a deep sense of purpose. “We’re supposed to be entertaining and educating kids,” the Colorado-based singer-songwriter exhales. “It’s about the music. If it’s not coming from the heart or isn’t fun, I won’t write it.”

Nathalia: Bilingual music for Families!

Children’s songwriter Nathalia engages families in an interactive musical performance. From themes like space exploration to crooning about the Amazon River, her energetic songs will have families singing, dancing and even learning a little Spanish in this fun multicultural experience.

Professor Universe: Into the Deep

Using fun, play and audience participation, Professor Universe and his cast of kooky characters keep kids laughing while learning. Kids will learn how amazing systems of global currents under the ocean and how most of our oxygen comes from the sea. They will journey from the mouthgaping coral reefs to the deepest depths, discovering the fantastic life beneath the waves.

Sticker Mania With Sarah Bowen

Come and make your own stickers with artist Sarah Bowen from Time Things by YOU! Learn some drawing basics and make up your own design! And trade a sticker or two with your fellow creators.

Tommy Terrific: Ocean Magic

Join Tommy for magic tricks with things that fly – from balloons and planes to rocket ships. Tommy will explore the legacy and accomplishments of the Tuskegee Airman, who defended our country during World War II. As the first African American military aviators in the U.S. Armed Forces, the Tuskegee Airman served with distinction and were vital to the war effort.

Will Parker: Music for Kids Ages 1-100

Join musician Will Parker for a fun, interactive show for the whole family! Accompanying himself on guitar and harmonica, Will plays original songs for kids “ages 1-100.” Throughout the show, the audience engages through singing along, dancing, high-fiving and imaginative play, and even helps Will create an improvised song!

Stories & Sign Language for Kids!

Join Mike Pahsetopah as he teaches simple sign language for kids from the hand talk Indians once used.

The Que Pastas

Join The Que Pastas for high-energy, interactive, dance songs! The Que Pastas are a kid-friendly band from Austin. When not playing music for kids and their families, The Que Pastas are often found eating cereal and watching documentaries on Netflix.

Tommy Terrific: Mysterious and Fascinating Oceans

Tuesday, June 21 • 1-2 p.m.

Mysterious and Fascinating Oceans explores the sea that covers 70% of our planet. From seashells and fishing boats to pelicans and an octopus, Tommy has a fun, wild and interactive show kids of all ages will enjoy. With The Help of a giant Map’s Handbook, Tommy and the kids learn how oceans and biodiversity impact our lives and the world around us.

Tommy Terrific: Tuskegee Airman

Join Tommy for magic tricks with things that fly – from balloons and planes to rocket ships. Tommy will explore the legacy and accomplishments of the Tuskegee Airman, who defended our country during World War II. As the first African American military aviators in the U.S. Armed Forces, the Tuskegee Airman served with distinction and were vital to the war effort.

TIPS FOR PARENTS!

for littles

(birth to pre-K)

- Babies and young children are not yet able to read on their own. However, research shows that TALKING, SINGING, READING, WRITING and PLAYING every day will help them get ready for reading.

- Attend Build A Reader storytimes for a fun time for your children but also to learn more about what you can do at home to support your child’s literacy growth.

- Find more fun activities to do with your little one in the Build A Reader program at https://tulsalibrary.beanstack.org.

Fiction & nonfiction titles for littles

> To check out these titles and find more, visit www.tulsalibrary.org/books-music-movies.

Elephant Island

- By Leo Timmers
  - After a storm at sea, Elephant is stranded on an island and approached by a mouse with a boat, but Elephant’s size is too much for the small boat and they need to think of another option.

Ocean Speaks

- By Jess Keating
  - In the mid-20th century, women were not welcome in the sciences, but Marie Tharp was tenacious. The mid-ocean ridge that Marie discovered is the single largest geographic feature on the planet, and she mapped it all from her small, cramped office.

The Tide Pool Waits

- By Candace Fleming
  - Dive into the rich ecology of tide pools and watch a hidden world spring to life in this masterful nonfiction picture book for very young readers.

I Spy … a Shark!

- By Cora Reade
  - While exploring Coral Jungle, Simon Seahorse and his best friend Olive Octopus encounter a shark named Zelda who invites them to her mother’s birthday party at Shark Point – and Simon not only has a unique school report, but the makings of an exciting story!

TIPS FOR PARENTS!

(for kindergarten to fifth grade)

Allow your child to check out books based on his or her interest. When children choose what to read, the desire to read is stronger.

Encourage your child to read to you — and read to your child! Even school-aged children enjoy the care and attention of adults during read-alouds.

Provide your child with a comfortable, quiet place to read.

Attend fun events and programs for children at the library.

Find more fun activities to do with your child at www.tulsalibrary.org/kids.

LEGOLAND!

Wednesday, July 6 • 1:30-2:30 p.m. Use LEGOS to create an awesome project with other library friends. We will provide the LEGOS for a fun time! For ages 4 and up.

CURIOUS WORLD

Have you ever thought about how a seal might communicate if it could talk? Sometimes, it feels like we can read their expressions or body language, just like we do with people! It’s always fascinating to observe animals in their natural habitats and wonder about their thoughts.

Ms. Tori LOVES Kids, Books & Ocean Animals!

Ms. Tori Hamilton, better known as “Ms. Tori,” has been a children’s associate at the Glenpool Library for more than six years. But she also loves the Oklahoma Aquarium and all things ocean! Read this Q&A with Ms. Tori to learn more.

Q: You work at the Glenpool Library helping children and families find great books and information, but you also have been a volunteer with the Oklahoma Aquarium. The library’s Summer Reading Program theme this year is “Oceans of Possibilities.” What does it feel like to bring together “Aquarium Tori” with “Librarian Tori” in this way?

A: It’s pretty great! The Summer Reading Program is usually a busy time for librarians, but I feel uniquely prepared this year. Haha!

Q: How did you get interested in ocean animals and the aquarium? What is your favorite thing to do as a volunteer for the aquarium?

A: I’m a lifelong animal lover so when the opportunity came to volunteer at the aquarium, I jumped at it. I was an active weekly volunteer for two years, though these days I only go in when they need help with big events. My favorite part of volunteering is talking to people about the exhibits. When people say, “Wow! Look at that!” I love being able to say, “Right! But did you know...?” There’s nothing like sharing enthusiasm for cool things with an equally enthusiastic audience.

1. Do you have any fond ocean memories? For someone who is going to the ocean for the first time, what do you recommend they do?

   - Well, all of my ocean memories are fond ones! It’s hard to have a bad time at the beach! If you’re going for the first time, try everything! Walk barefoot in the sand, dig for shells, float in the water and read under a colorful umbrella. You never know which parts will be your favorites.

2. What is your absolute, all-time favorite ocean animal? Why?

   - I love octopuses! They’re just so amazing! I can go on and on about how great they are. (In fact, I wrote a list of cool octopus facts, in this very guide you are reading!)

3. You are known for singing and playing guitar in your storytimes at the Glenpool Library. Do you have any fond ocean memories? For the Glenpool Library, what does the library have to offer them?

   - Oh, no! The octopus has captured Ms. Tori! Well, not really … she’s just getting ready for an ocean octopus storytime at the Glenpool Library.

4. You also like to do yoga moves in storytime. Any ocean yoga moves kids could easily do?

   - Of course! My favorite “ocean” pose is Warrior 2. Technically, it has nothing to do with the ocean, but it’s perfect for pretending you’re surfing while you build strong surfing muscles!

5. What do you want kids to get out of the Summer Reading Program? Any words of advice or wisdom for them? What does the library have to offer them?

   - Mostly I want kids to know it’s not just boring if you read about things you love. Reading doesn’t have to be boring if you read about things you love.

COOL OCTOPUS FACTS

WHY does Ms. Tori LOVE these sea creatures?

Octopuses can solve puzzles.

Octopuses are some of the smartest animals alive. Scientists have watched octopuses solve problems, escape complicated situations and even use tools in the wild.

Not all octopuses are the same.

There are as many species of octopus as there are breeds of dog! Some live in shallow, warm waters close to beaches, while others live in the deepest, darkest parts of the ocean floor. The adorable Dumbo Octopus has fins that look like ears. The colorful Wonderpus is known to be extra friendly around divers and loves to have its picture taken. And the Giant Pacific Octopus can weigh over 100 pounds! Which kind will be your favorite??

Octopuses have blue blood.

While humans (and most other animals) have iron in their blood cells, octopuses have copper in theirs. This not only gives them their blue color but also makes it easier for octopuses to survive in low-oxygen environments.

Octopus arms have a mind of their own (sort of).

Octopus brains are spread throughout their bodies, including in their arms! In fact, if an octopus is attacked by predators, they might sacrifice an arm and run away. The arm will keep moving on its own to confuse the predator!

Octopuses are masters of disguise.

Not only do octopuses have the same color-changing cells that chameleons have, their skin can also bunch up to look like plants or smooth out to look like stones on the ocean floor.

There are so many great words you can learn when reading about the ocean, seas, and all the animals inside and around. The more words you know about a topic (like the ocean!), the more you’ll be able to learn when you read. Here are just some of our favorite words, with facts about fish and other sea animals using these words.

Vertebrates and invertebrates

Vertebrates, which have backbones, include whales, seals, and other warm-blooded animals. Invertebrates, which don’t have backbones, include sponges, jellyfish, octopuses, and starfish. Why do some animals have backbones while others don’t? It’s called adaptation — changes that animals make to help them survive.

Marine means anything related to the ocean or underwater environments.

Scales are parts of the fish that bend but are very strong. Unlike other fish, seahorses swim upright and don’t have scales.

Bioluminescent means they have special body features that give off light. Other animals are blind and get around with other senses than sight.

Sunlight does not reach the deepest parts of the ocean, so sea animals who live there are often bioluminescent, which means they have special body features that give off light. Other animals are blind and get around with other senses than sight.

Algae is a kind of plant that grows under water. Some humans even eat algae!

Jellyfish use tentacles, or long, boneless body parts like arms, to get around, though they mostly rely on water currents, or the movement of water by wind or temperature.

Walruses are warm-blooded mammals who breathe air, so the ocean doesn’t seem like the best place for them to live. But they have adaptations, or changes to their bodies, that help them survive, including flippers to help them get around on ice as well as swim.

Fun FISH Vocabulary for your Ocean Adventures!

Scales

Did you know that scales are actually fish? Unlike other fish, they swim upright and do not have scales, which are parts of the fish that bend but are very strong.

Vertebrates

There are over 32,000 kinds of fish! They are part of marine life. Marine means anything related to the ocean or underwater environments.

Invertebrates

Did you know that seahorses are actually fish? Unlike other fish, they swim upright and do not have scales, which are parts of the fish that bend but are very strong.

Marine

Sunlight does not reach the deepest parts of the ocean, so sea animals who live there are often bioluminescent, which means they have special body features that give off light. Other animals are blind and get around with other senses than sight.

Algae

Snails, shrimp, clams and some kinds of fish eat algae, which is a kind of plant that grows under water. Some humans even eat algae!

Jellyfish

Jellyfish use tentacles, or long, boneless body parts like arms, to get around, though they mostly rely on water currents, or the movement of water by wind or temperature.

Walruses

Walruses are warm-blooded mammals who breathe air, so the ocean doesn’t seem like the best place for them to live. But they have adaptations, or changes to their bodies, that help them survive, including flippers to help them get around on ice as well as swim.
