

The Chickens Choice

By Audrey. P

Rosy the chicken was a lovely girl but she was the only chicken on the farm and the farmer was selfish and rude.

She was so mad she stormed off grumbling.

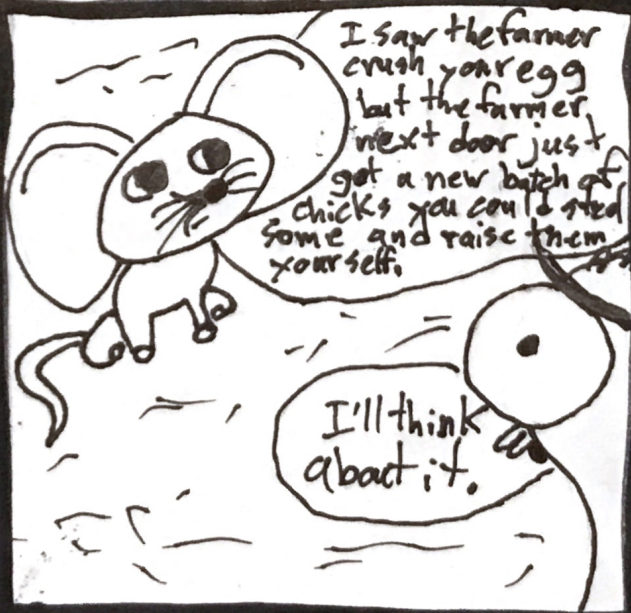

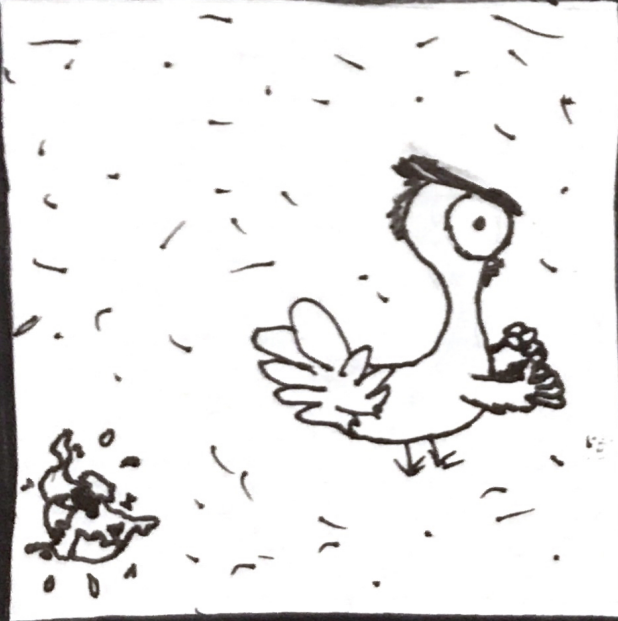

And every day he would complain and scream at Rosy for only laying one egg a day and his fits frightened Rosy.

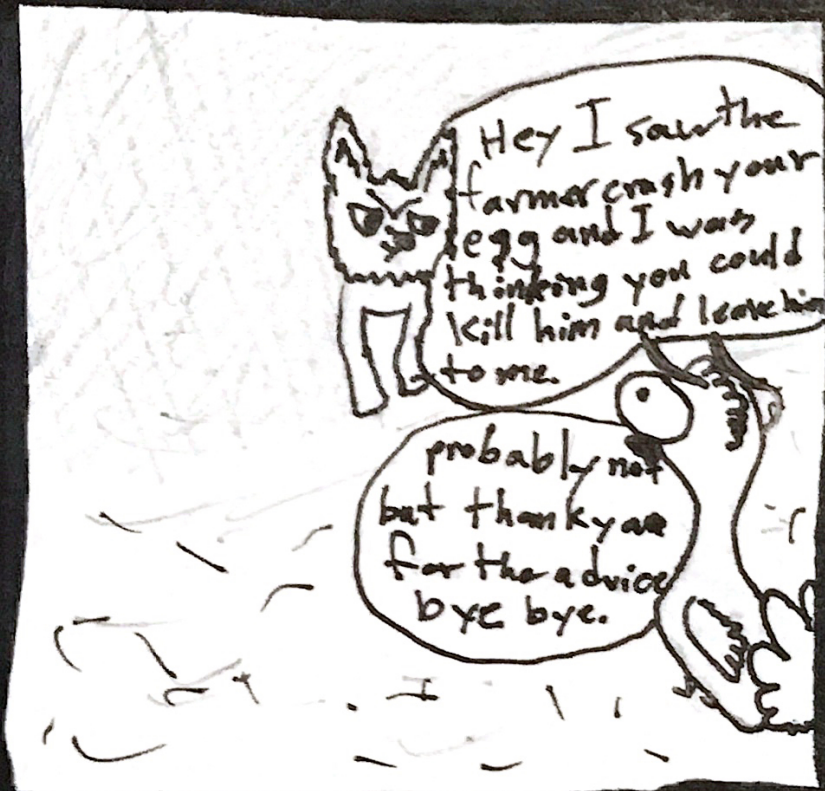

While she was resting a mouse came up to her.

One day he got so mad that he crushed one of Rosy's eggs and threw it on the ground.

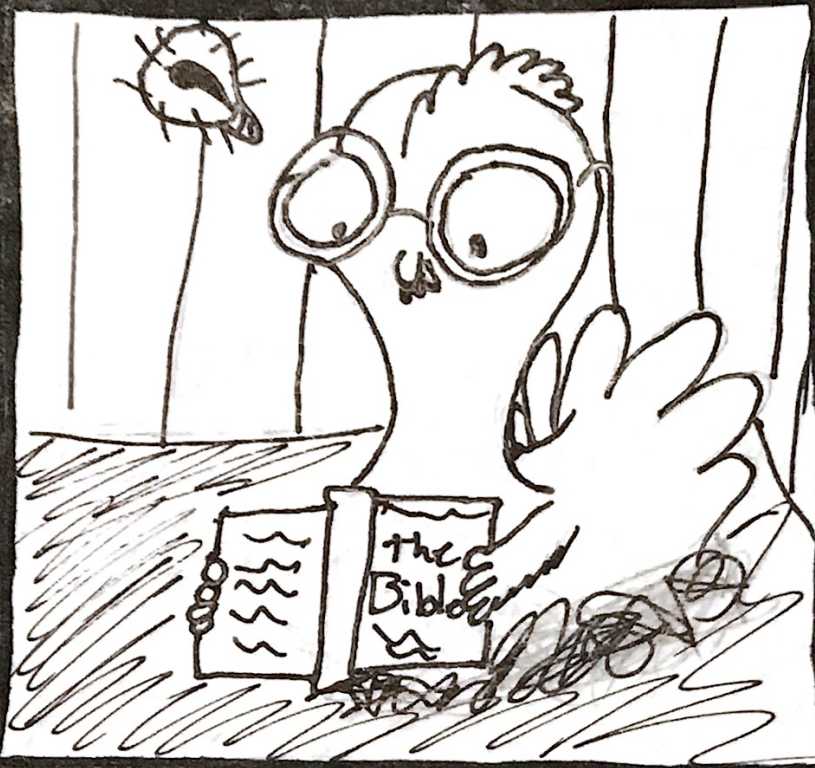

The next day while she was walking near the fence she met a pig.

Later that day a fox came by to talk to Royy.

When she got there she knocked on the door and said.

The next morning she was reflecting and reading the bible and then it hit her!

The farmer thought about it for a minute then he replied.

She jumped up and ran to the house.

Then they all lived happy days forever!
