A New Chapter Begins at Bronson Brookside Library!

On Oct. 23, the Bronson Brookside Library officially opened its doors. The grand opening began with a ribbon cutting and continued throughout the day with live music from Miss Holly and her ukulele, caricature drawings, a teen art display, Mario Kart competitions, maker space demonstrations, a prize raffle and more.

“We are thrilled to open this branch to the Tulsa community and invite everyone to come see what a modern library looks and feels like,” said TCCL CEO Kimberly Johnson. “No matter your interest — whether you’re exploring a new hobby, advancing your education, applying for a job or starting a business — there is something for everyone, and we are here to help.”

The first branch completed as part of the MY Library, OUR Future campaign, the Bronson Brookside Library is named in honor of the late Donald Bronson Atkins.

The new 15,000-square-foot library, located at 4607 S. Madison Place, was designed with community, creativity and comfort in mind, offering a wide range of spaces and amenities for all ages. Visitors are welcomed through the Peggy Helmerich Lobby, which features thoughtful book displays, self-check stations, a holds area, a laptop dispenser and the Ask desk. Nearby, the adaptable Activity Room can host a variety of programs, including maker space activities.

The Anne & Henry Zarrow Foundation Children’s Area invites families to explore the expanded children’s collection through colorful book bins and a garden-themed design. Interactive learning centers and activity stations encourage literacy development, while four dedicated children’s computers offer opportunities for digital exploration. Just outside the children’s area is the Huck’s Hideaway Children’s Patio, sponsored by the Hardesty Family Foundation. The outdoor space features a whimsical road design, children’s tricycles and plenty of space to play.

Teens have their own spot to hang out and create in the Teen Area, which features a dedicated collection, comfy seating, a Wi-Fi bar and an interactive Everbright board. It’s also near the life-size chessboard, which welcomes all ages and skill levels to play an immersive game of chess.

For adults, the Sanford & Irene Burnstein Family Foundation Outdoor Adult Reading Space provides a quiet retreat complete with oversized lounge chairs. Inside, customers have access to 19 public computers throughout the building, and the Business Center makes it easy to get things done with faxing, copying and scanning services.

Outside, the drive-up service window allows visitors to quickly pick up holds without leaving their vehicle.

Customers looking for collaboration or quiet study will find four uniquely designed huddle rooms. The Large Community Meeting Room, equipped with a projector, can accommodate up to 50 guests and is available for community reservations.

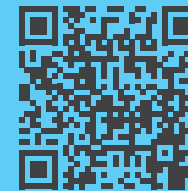

Despite being one of the smallest branches in Tulsa City-County Library's system, the original Brookside Library consistently ranked sixth in foot traffic among TCCL's 24 branches. With double the space, enhanced amenities and new opportunities for connection, the Bronson Brookside Library is poised to serve even more customers while preserving the community spirit that made the original branch so loved.

Located just one block south of its original location at 1207 E. 45th Place, the $9.4 million Bronson Brookside Library was funded through a combination of foundation grants, corporate support and individual donations. Major donors include Bob and Leslie Pritchard, The Anne & Henry Zarrow Foundation, The Helmerich Trust, the Hardesty Family Foundation and the Sanford & Irene Burnstein Family Foundation.

The Bronson Brookside Library's new chapter is officially underway. Come and be part of it by stopping by and exploring all that it has to offer!

Q&A With Hernan Diaz

- 1 Since 1985, TCCL has bestowed the Peggy V. Helmerich Distinguished Author Award on some of the world's most prestigious authors. How did you feel when you first learned that you were selected as the 2025 Peggy V. Helmerich Distinguished Author Award recipient?

It defies belief to find one's name in a list including so many heroes, from Toni Morrison to Kazuo Ishiguro, from Ian McEwan to Hilary Mantel. Just imagine a list from which one could produce such names at random. It is also quite special to be honored by the Tulsa City-County Library. I've always worked at libraries, and I still do. I have an unpayable debt of gratitude to the librarians and curators that have helped me through the years, and their service to their communities should always be remembered and praised.

- 2 Tell us a little bit about yourself. Where were you born? Where did you grow up? What were your interests? Were you a big reader? If so, what types of books did you like to read?

I was born in Buenos Aires, Argentina, but moved to Stockholm, Sweden, at the age of 2. Although we spoke Spanish at home, Swedish was my first social language and, also, the language in which I read my first books and wrote my first short stories. I was a precocious reader, and there was a lot of Astrid Lindgren throughout my childhood. Also, many comics, among which Tintin (in Swedish translation) left a deep impression. Soon, I moved on to adventure novels – Jules Verne, Edgar Rice Burroughs, Emilio Salgari, Robert Louis Stevenson. The big shift came when I discovered that a true literary adventure doesn't take place in the plot but in language itself. This happened around age 10, with the discovery of authors such as Julio Cortázar, Edgar Allan Poe and Jorge Luis Borges.

- 3 When did you first get interested in writing? What inspired you to become a writer?

I've always wanted to be a writer. Even before I learned how to write, I knew that words were my thing. I grew up in a rather bookish home, which helped. But as a child, I never wanted to become an astronaut or a firefighter. An unexplainable love of language, which has been with me forever, was my motivation.

- 4 You published your first novel, In the Distance, at age 44. What was your profession prior to becoming a published author? Are you a full-time writer now?

While writing fiction nonstop to have it be rejected absolutely everywhere, I was an academic and sometimes critic. I taught at different universities until I got a position at Columbia as editor of one of their academic journals. It was a great job, because it gave me a lot of freedom. I wrote four books in my windowless basement office on West 116th Street. I left that job about a year ago, and now I am, for the first time in my life, what I've always wanted to be: a full-time writer. It took a while ...

- 5 When you are not writing, what do you like to do in your downtime?

I don't have downtime.

PAINT With Your Words With

Gina Conroy: Location and Characterization Workshop

4-6 p.m. • Collinsville Library

In this hands-on, creative writing workshop, you'll learn to paint with words – transforming ordinary descriptions into vivid, emotionally charged scenes that pull readers right into the story. Using the P.A.I.N.T. method, you'll explore how location shapes mood, conflict and character choices while developing believable, well-rounded characters through sensory details, description and action. Through guided activities and interactive discussion, you'll practice showing instead of telling, craft descriptive paragraphs that bring settings and characters to life, and begin to see how these elements work together to build compelling stories. By the end of class, they'll have a scene that feels alive – a true step toward releasing the novel in your writer! Recommended for fifth-eighth graders.

DEC. 20, SATURDAY

It's a Wrap! Christmas Wrapping Party 10 a.m.-noon • Glenpool Library

Join us for a festive morning of Christmas wrapping cheer for all ages. We'll have wrapping paper, bags, tape and some ribbons and bows to finish wrapping those last-minute gifts. FREE books for kids from birth through their fifth birthday!

How It Works:

- If you live in Tulsa County, enroll your child online today by scanning the QR code below or by visiting www.TulsaLibrary.org/imagination-library. Online enrollment is the fastest way to get your child signed up. Paper registration forms are available to pick up at and return to any Tulsa City-County Library location. For TCCL locations, see Page 39 or visit www.TulsaLibrary.org/locations.
- In six to 12 weeks, your child will receive their first book in the mail. Age-appropriate books will arrive in the mail monthly until your child's fifth birthday.

Books Now Available in Bilingual English/Spanish!

The Imagination Library now offers a new option for families: a fully bilingual English/Spanish book collection. Families who choose this option will receive bilingual books – every month, from enrollment up to your child's fifth birthday. If you are already enrolled in the Imagination Library and would like to opt in to the new Bilingual English/Spanish book collection, just log in to your parent account at www.imaginationlibrary.com/bos and update the book collection preference for each child you have enrolled.

Questions? Contact Rebecca Harrison at imaginationlibrary@tulsalibrary.org or call 918-549-7485.

The Imagination Library of Tulsa City-County Library is paid for through a partnership with the Oklahoma State Department of Education, the Oklahoma Partnership for School Readiness and private funding through the Birth through Eight Strategy for Tulsa, an initiative of George Kaiser Family Foundation.

Una guía mensual de eventos, servicios y recursos de la Biblioteca de la Ciudad y Condado de Tulsa

Comienza un nuevo capítulo en la biblioteca Bronson Brookside

El 23 de octubre, la biblioteca Bronson Brookside abrió oficialmente sus puertas. La gran inauguración comenzó con el corte de cinta y continuó durante todo el día con música en vivo de Miss Holly y su ukelele, con dibujos de caricaturas, una exposición de arte para adolescentes, competencias de Mario Kart, demostraciones del Maker Space – El Espacio Creativo, un sorteo de premios y mucho más.

“Estamos encantados de abrir esta sucursal a la comunidad de Tulsa e invitamos a todos a venir a ver cómo es una biblioteca moderna,” dijo Kimberly Johnson, directora ejecutiva de TCCL. “No importa cuál sea su interés, ya sea explorar un nuevo pasatiempo, avanzar en su educación, buscando un trabajo o iniciar un negocio, hay algo para todos, y estamos aquí para ayudar.”

La biblioteca Bronson Brookside, es la primera en ser completada como parte de la campaña MY Library, OUR Future, recibe su nombre en honor al difunto Donald Bronson Atkins.

La nueva biblioteca, con una superficie de 1,400 metros cuadrados, y está ubicada en el 4607 S. Madison Place y ha sido diseñada pensando en la comunidad, la creatividad y la comodidad, ofreciendo una amplia gama de espacios y servicios para todas las edades. Todos los visitantes son recibidos en el vestíbulo Peggy Helmerich, que cuenta con estanterías de libros, estaciones de auto chequeo, una zona de reservas, un dispensador de computadoras portátiles y el escritorio de información. Cerca de allí, la sala de actividades adaptable puede albergar una gran variedad de programas, incluidas un espacio para creadores.

El área infantil de la Fundación Anne & Henry Zarrow invita a las familias a explorar la amplia colección infantil a través de coloridos contenedores de libros, y el diseño con temática de jardín incorpora el arte Garden Deva tomado de la biblioteca original. Los centros de aprendizaje interactivo y las estaciones de actividades fomentan el desarrollo de la alfabetización, mientras que cuatro computadoras dedicadas a los niños ofrecen oportunidades para la exploración digital. Justo fuera del área infantil se encuentra el patio infantil Huck’s Hideaway, patrocinado por la Fundación Hardesty Family. El espacio exterior presenta un diseño fantástico de carreteras, triciclos para niños y mucho espacio para jugar.

Los adolescentes tienen su propio lugar para pasar el rato y crear en la Zona para Adolescentes, que cuenta con una colección dedicada para adolescentes, cómodos asientos, una barra con Wi-Fi y un tablero interactivo Everbright. También está cerca del tablero de ajedrez de tamaño real, que da la bienvenida a personas de todas las edades y niveles de habilidad para jugar una partida de ajedrez muy emocionante.

Para los adultos, el espacio de lectura al aire libre de la Fundación Familiar Sanford & Irene Burnstein ofrece un refugio tranquilo con sillones de gran tamaño. En el interior, los clientes tienen acceso a 19 computadoras públicas repartidas por todo el edificio, y el Centro de Negocios facilita la realización de tareas gracias a los servicios de fax, fotocopidora y escáner. En el exterior, el servicio en la ventanilla para automóviles permite a los visitantes recoger rápidamente sus reservas sin salir de su vehículo.

Los clientes que busquen trabajar en grupo o estudiar en silencio encontrarán cuatro salas de reunión con un diseño único. La gran sala de reuniones comunitaria, equipada con un proyector, tiene capacidad para 50 personas y está disponible para reservas de la comunidad.

La primera biblioteca Brookside, era una de las más pequeñas del sistema de la ciudad y el condado de Tulsa, pero a pesar de su tamaño, ocupaba el sexto lugar en cuanto a tráfico de visitantes entre las 24 bibliotecas de la TCCL. Con el doble de espacio, mejores servicios y nuevas oportunidades de conexión, la biblioteca Bronson Brookside está preparada para atender a aún más clientes, al tiempo que conserva el espíritu comunitario que hizo tan querida a la biblioteca original.

Ubicada a solo una cuadra al sur de su ubicación original en 1207 E. 45th Place, la Biblioteca Bronson Brookside, con un costo de 9.4 millones de dólares, fue financiada mediante una combinación de subsidios de fundaciones, apoyo corporativo y donaciones individuales. Entre los principales donantes se encuentran Bob y Leslie Pritchard, la Fundación Anne & Henry Zarrow, el Fideicomiso Helmerich, la Fundación de la Familia Hardesty y la Fundación de la Familia Sanford & Irene Burnstein.

La nueva etapa de la Biblioteca Bronson Brookside ya ha comenzado oficialmente. ¡Ven y forma parte de ella visitándola y explorando todo lo que tiene para ofrecer!
